If Sir Elton John and Rufus Wainwright met at a late night cabaret to make some music, it would sound like Jeffery Straker: singer-songwriter-pianist.

Jeff receives marvelous reviews such as:

"Cycling through Jeff's record I could not help but wonder why he's not already a star in this country. He's evolved into a fine songwriter with great lyrical sensibilities. His music is a marvelous marriage of style and substance... Straker is very much an artist to watch." - Canadian Musician Magazine - (Jan/Feb 09)

"Response to your song has been so good, we're adding it to our playlist - congratulations!" - Mark Hunter Z99 radio Regina SK.

Jeffery is touring his new chamber-pop album "Step Right Up" across Canada. This past summer he opened for Mel C (from the Spice Girls), the Regina Symphony he performs 100 shows a year. Hypnotized from his "Step Right Up" Album was on Much More Music's Top 10 in 09.
